Traveling Around the World with Mike and Barbara Bivona Sep 23 2019 Mike and Barbara Bivona have danced their way around the world, embracing the colorful rhythms of each country and culture in their travels. Now, Mike, the author of Dancing Around the World with Mike and Barbara Bivona, returns to share more of their globe-trotting adventures in part one of a new travel memoir series. While cruising the islands, they witnessed lava flowing into the surf off the shores of Hawaii and danced on a nightclub floor that once saw the white-uniformed officers of the warships anchored at the naval station in Pearl Harbor. Mike describes the thrill and challenge of learning the intricate steps of the Argentine tango in Buenos Aires and, more importantly, absorbing its proper attitude from master dancers. The brimstone fumes wreathing the slopes of Mt. Vesuvius transported them back in time, as the frozen bodies of the unlucky residents of Pompeii and Herculaneumas well as the evidence of Romans lively erotic imagination left on walls and sculptured into clayinspired numerous colorful conversations. Mike and Barbaras shared passion for art and history has led them to seek out the haunts of other lovers of adventureColumbus, Ponce de Leon, General Custer, circus impresario John Ringling, and the elderly jazz musicians in New Orleans. Hotel Fargoan: Part One of Three Aug 27 2022 Inspired by her parent's courtship letters, Eileen Torgersen-Smith presents a heart warming account of a romance that took place over the course of 1940, a year that had great historical significance for the world. Meanwhile, the first peace-time conscription law was enacted and Congress authorized a huge defense budget, setting the stage for the armament industry to gear up for massive production. Despite the horrible backdrop of a looming World War Two, the wonderfully sweet romance between Art and Sally unfolds. Art is a traveling salesman in northeastern North Dakota. Sally is an elementary school teacher in Fargo, where she resides in an apartment at Hotel Fargoan. How will there lives be affected by the war? Sustainable and Environmental Quality Standards for Hotels and Restaurants Jan 20 2022 The hotel and tourism industry is changing worldwide and is experiencing stormy times right now. On the one hand, we are dealing with the coronavirus pandemic, on the other hand with the wave of digitalization and changes in tourists and guests wishes. We have taken on these major challenges and present you with sustainable and environmental quality standards for hotels and restaurants. We have divided the quality standards into three reference books to make them handier. The first part contains quality standards for the management, the second part covers quality standards for the hotel area and the third part the ones for the restaurant area. Our quality standards are field-tested and approved by TÜV, Germany's number one certification organization. This part contains the quality standards for the management, the quality representatives, the personnel management as well as office and marketing. By implementing sustainable and environmental quality standards, energy and water consumption is demonstrably reduced. On the other hand, the efficiency and motivation of the employees increases.

Tourism, Religion and Pilgrimage in Jerusalem Oct 25 2019 Jerusalem is a city with a singular nature. Home to three religions, it contains spiritual meaning for people the world over; it is at once a tourist destination and a location with a complex political reality. Tourism, therefore, is an integral part of Jerusalem's development and its political conflicts. The book traces tourism and pilgrimage to Jerusalem from the late Ottoman era, through the British Mandate, during the period of the divided city, and to the reunification of the city under Israeli rule. Throughout, the city's evolution is shown to be intertwined with its tourist industry, as tourist sites, accommodations, infrastructure, and services transform the city's structures and open spaces. At the same time, tourism is wielded by various parties in an effort to gain political recognition, to bolster territorial control, or to garner support. The city's future and the role tourism can play in it are examined. While the construction of a "security fence" will have many implications on Jerusalem's tourist industry, steps are proposed to minimize the effects of the security fence and optimize tourism. Written by leading academics, this title will be valuable reading for students, academics, and researchers in the fields of tourism, religious studies, geography, history, cultural studies, and anthropology.

The Plaza Jun 01 2020 Award-winning New York Times real estate reporter Julie Satow's inside history of how one iconic property has defined our understanding of wealth and glamour for a century. From the moment Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt walked through the Plaza's revolving doors to become its first guest in 1907, the 18-story white marble edifice at the corner of Fifth Avenue and 59th Street has radiated wealth and luxury. Yet its pristine façade also hid dark secrets, including a brutal union fight on the hotel's still-unfinished eighth floor, which took place just months before Vanderbilt's entrance, leaving a man dead. THE PLAZA tells the unforgettable story of one vaunted New York City address that has become synonymous with wealth and scandal, opportunity and tragedy. For some, the hotel evokes images of F. Scott Fitzgerald frolicking in the Pulitzer Fountain, or Eloise, the impish young guest who pours water down the mail chute. But the true story of THE PLAZA also includes the legal and financial saga that saw the building through nearly a dozen owners, including a disgraced Indian tycoon who ran the hotel from a prison cell, and Conrad Hilton and Donald Trump, who cannily leveraged its exalted address for their own self-aggrandizement. In a sprawling, character-driven narrative, Julie Satow details long-forgotten anecdotes and newly-discovered tales about the rich and pedigreed, including the beautiful ingenue who shocked at Truman Capote's Black and White Ball, how wealthy dowager widows once saved the hotel, and celebrities from Frank Lloyd Wright to Eddie Murphy to a shogun from Japan. Drawing on hundreds of interviews to follow the trail of money that flowed through the hotel from its inception to today, this immersive work of reporting examines the role of New York real estate in the U.S. and the global economy. THE PLAZA exposes how foreign money and anonymous shell companies have transformed the hotel's iconic rooms into condominiums purchased to shield ill-gotten gains -- hollowing out parts of the hotel as well as the city around it. THE PLAZA not only entertains, it reveals for the first time how the illustrious property became a mirror reflecting New York's place at the center of the country's cultural narrative, from era to era. It is the story of glamour on the surface and strife behind the scenes, and the authoritative account of how one hotel defined a century.

The Grand Life Sep 16 2021 The Grand Life is the funny and touching memoir of the life and times of Patrick Langley Griffin OAM, growing up in the post war years of a gloomy Britain in the 40's and 50's, then through his long career an hotelier in some 'Grand' hotels in England and Australia. Part 1: 1946 to 1947 Patrick L Griffin OAM, growing up in the post war years of a gloomy Britain in the 40s and 50s, through his fifty years as a hotelier in grand hotels across the UK, Europe and Australia. His memoir is filled with characters famous, infamous and hitherto unknown. From his first star encounter with Charlie Chaplin, the memoir is filled with tales of film stars, rock legends, celebrities, Heads of State and politicians, as well as the British Royal Family. No less enjoyable are the tales of ordinary folk, just as full of laughs, tears and crazy behaviour. The memoir is full of humour, candour and genuine empathy for the common humanity that binds us all. Born in Rugby, England in 1946, his early youth was spent in Swanage, Dorset, where the family had moved to escape the German bombing while their father served in the RAF. Although not academically inclined, his charm, wit and unfailing ability to make lemonade when he was given lemons ensure his childhood and public school years are filled with adventures and hilarious mishaps. His career started in 1963 as a trainee manager at Te Grand Hotel in Eastbourne, a very traditional Victorian-era five-star hotel, where he found his passion for hospitality. Half a century of social and political change comes to life, from post-war austerity and bureaucracy through the Swinging Sixties and the 'Summer of Love' in Amsterdam, to England's industrial upheaval and 'Winter of Discontent' of the Seventies. He moved to Australia as the century drew to a close for a new beginning, opening two hotels that would set a new benchmark in luxury hotel standards. His resilience and sense of humour helped him to survive and thrive.
